

NO TEST OF NEW DEAL POLICY IN STATE UNTIL '36Gov. Horner Will Refuse to Call Elections to Fill Vacancies

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 15.—(AP)—Illinois today had not prospect of a special congressional election to furnish a pre-1936 test of New Deal sentiment.

Governor Horner was described as having no intention of ordering special elections to pick successors to Michael L. Igoe, who resigned as congressman-at-large to become United States District Attorney at Chicago, and William W. Arnold of Robinson, who is to resign his seat from the 23rd district to become a member of the Board of Tax Appeals.

A special election to fill the Igoe vacancy would permit Illinois, the third largest state, to ballot on national issues. Politicians have debated the possible outcome of such an election since the Republican nominee recently carried a Rhode Island district.

The expense of a state-wide special election, estimated at a half million dollars, is represented as being the major reason for letting the Igoe seat remain vacant until the next Congress convenes.

Has Not Commented
Horner has not commented on his intentions, but close associates have pointed out that he has not called special elections to fill congressional vacancies in the past.

No effort was made during the last Congress to fill the vacancies caused by the resignation of J. Earl Major, who became a Federal district judge here, and by the death of Speaker Henry T. Rainey.

The state law provides that the governor shall call a special election for congressional vacancies. The Supreme Court has consistently held, however, that the governor cannot be forced by mandamus action to perform any duties discretionary in nature, while some other decisions are that such a suit cannot be taken regarding a ministerial duty.

Beginning Teachers
Held Well-Attended
Meet on Wednesday

The annual meeting for beginning teachers of the Lee county rural schools held in the Circuit Court room yesterday was attended by about 125 teachers from Lee and adjoining counties. The meeting was one of the largest in point of attendance and interest in the history of the gatherings each year before the opening of the rural school year. The lectures were both highly interesting as well as instructive.

County Superintendent of Schools L. W. Miller in welcoming the teachers to the meeting, expressed his appreciation for the high standard of education that has been established in Lee county and cited the fact that this honor was attributed to the teachers alone, who had carried on through depressing times in maintaining this high standard. County Superintendent W. L. Pickering of Ogle county, who recently assumed the duties of his office attended the sessions. Mrs. Coral Warner Lambert, teacher of the Stoney Point school east of the city was one of the speakers, was engaged to address the Ogle county institute meeting to be held at Oregon, Aug. 30.

Seek Compromise on
"Death Sentence" in Washington, Aug. 15.—(AP)—A compromise on the "death sentence" in the public utility regulatory bill was being shaped today by senate conferees in a last minute effort to win agreement from house members this session.

The compromise was reported to be ready for submission at a meeting tomorrow.

A meeting scheduled for today was called off in order, Chairman Wheeler of the conferees, said, to "give members time to think the situation over."

The compromise was reported to call for the senate to give way on two major points. One would permit two holding companies to exist in each integrated utility system instead of one permitted in the senate bill. The other would eliminate the seven year deadline for dissolution of holding companies and permit them to break up "in a reasonable time."

WIFE WHO SLEW
RIVAL "IS GLAD"Her Only Concern What
Her 9-Year-Old Son
Will Think of It

New York, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Etta Reisman, who shattered a triangle by killing her husband's secretary, was quoted today by the Daily News as saying:

"I don't think anything I did was so terribly wrong. In fact, I think I'm glad."

The only regret expressed in jail by the 35-year-old matron, who saw her place being usurped by the youthful and pretty Virginia Seigh and therefore shot the girl, was for her son, Elias.

"He'll be nine soon," she explained, "and I am afraid of what he will think about this—particularly when I am not there to tell him the truth."

District Attorney Charles P. Sullivan said he might not submit the case to the grand jury immediately. He wanted to consider it further, he said, before deciding whether to ask for a first degree murder indictment.

Sullivan questioned the woman late yesterday about the events which led to the shooting at the Reisman home in the Beechhurst section, where Miss Seigh boarded for seven years.

Reisman, 43-year-old operator of six beauty parlors, had told his wife Tuesday that he wanted a separation. They argued and the argument grew hotter.

"I love Virginia and Virginia loves me," Reisman finally said.

At this, Mrs. Reisman dashed into the house and got her husband's revolver. Raising it with both hands, she fired a single shot into her rival's heart. Annette, 23, her step-daughter, was shot in the hand in a scuffle for the gun.

HORNER FLEW TO CAMP GRANT FOR GOVERNOR'S DAY

Rockford, Ill., Aug. 15.—(AP)—Flying from Springfield to Camp Grant, Gov. Henry Horner today reviewed Illinois National Guardsmen of the 33rd division at the annual "Governor's Day" parade.

The governor, accompanied by L. P. Bonifoe of Quincy, head of the state aviation commission, received the salute of the division at its march past the reviewing stand under the leadership of Brigadier General Thomas S. Hammond and his staff.

Guardsmen arose at dawn today to put the last bit of shine on their buttons and removed from their shoes any remaining traces of the "Battle of the Kishwaukee River" in which the attacking "blue forces" with an old-time cavalry flanking maneuver chased the defending "reds" from the positions in Tuesday's mimic warfare.

The aerial trip from Springfield to the National Guard landing field at the camp was without incident, Horner said. A troop from the 106th cavalry met him at the airport and escorted him to divisional headquarters.

SUES FOR $100,000

Chicago—A suit for $100,000 was filed in Federal court by Benjamin F. Burdine, 36, Clinton, Ill., against the Illinois Central railroad, alleging loss of sight of one eye and impairment of the other as a result of exposure to creosote while unloading ties a year ago.

Members of Congressional Committee Charge President With Seeking Change in Form of Govt.

Washington, Aug. 15.—(AP)—In the fight over the Guffey coal bill—a measure which some New Deal chiefs say may be discarded for this session—six Republicans today tossed an accusation that President Roosevelt seeks to change the American form of government.

A minority of the house ways and means committee, which approved the bill by a narrow margin, the dissenters said in a report.

"In his advocacy of this legislation, the president continues to show his apparent disregard for constitutional limitations and his desire to institute fundamental

HORSE SHOW AND FAIR WILL DRAW
CROWD TO DIXONAttraction This Weekend Promises to Be Best in Show's History

Large numbers of Dixon people are holding open house this weekend to accommodate anticipated visitors arriving for the annual attractive Lee County Horse Show and Fair which has proved very popular here every year.

This significant event which has proved so popular in the past is being staged Saturday and Sunday with added features and larger entries than the previous years have offered.

Those attending each year will anticipate seeing "Lady Leaton" owned by Dr. Z. W. Moss; also "Ching" and "Chang" the well-known saddle horses of Mr. and Mrs. George Beier; as well as "Flash" the jumper from the Dickey Riding Academy and a newcomer "Fatal" rare imported Arabian stallion, with a pedigree antedating 130 years, from the Babson Farm near Rand Detour. Everyone will regret the absence of "Doodle Bug" who happens to be sojourning in his native state, Kentucky, and in his stead Dr. Grover C. Moss will enter "Red Wing" a dapper young driving pony.

Other Charter Entrants
Other charter entrants of the Dixon Horse Show who are expected again are John Boyle of DeKalb with his speed "Right-O-Way," Francis Clark of Bradford with his five-gaited "Dusty" Miss Bertha Heeger of Mendota, Mr. Louis De Graff of Forreston and P. E. Courtney of DeKalb.

Among those riding in the pony division again will be the young equestriennes, Martha Hutchinson, Sarah Hasselberg, Lucille and Joan Raiston.

Charles Finley, popular electrician of the L. N. U. will present for the first time his jumper, "Duchess," while "Foxy Lady" three gaited saddler owned by Robert Eno will also make her initial appearance.

Non-resident enthusiasts who are accustomed to competing in shows of this order in Denver, Chicago, New York and Buffalo, are Elliott Bartlett of Rockford who is exhibiting "Lex Solitaire," Amy Baker of Batavia with "Queen Marie" and Earl Dixon of Davenport with his Shetlands and Hackneys.

The Dixon Municipal band will furnish music both afternoons. The program on Sunday will be varied greatly from that presented on Saturday. The fact that prize money instead of ribbons will be given in recognition this year is giving the show an added zest and will promote high tension atmosphere among the spectators.

Dr. Grover Moss spent yesterday in Lewistown, Ill., attending the annual horse show returning home late evening. On his visit he secured entries for Dixon's show from two of the outstanding stables of Missouri. The Lake View stables of Kirksville, Mo., will enter four head of three and five-gaited horses in the show to be held at the high school athletic field Saturday and Sunday. Five head will also come to Dixon from the Drewdale stables at Columbia, Mo. This brings the entry list to about 75 head of horses for the two day competition.

Ousted Postmaster at Gillespie Kills Self

Gillespie, Ill., Aug. 15.—(AP)—Evan Harris, 71, who was to have retired today as postmaster of Gillespie, died today from an apparently self-inflicted bullet wound. He died in a Carlinville hospital four hours after he was found in the rear of the postoffice, holding a government pistol in his hand.

Harris had been postmaster for thirteen years. The appointment of his successor was effective tomorrow.

changes in our governmental system looking to the establishment of a centralized bureaucratic autocracy under executive control.

"The bill, called a 'little NRA' measure, would regulate the bituminous coal industry through a code for wage and hour standards, trade practices and price-fixing. It would be enforced through taxes, much of which would go to returned to operators who signed up to abide by regulations."

Signers of the minority report were: Reps. Bacharach of New Jersey, Treadway of Massachusetts, Crowther of New York, Kuntson of Minnesota, Reed of New York and Woodruff of Michigan.

ARGUE RAPIST'S PLEAS FOR NEW TRIAL ON FRIDAYIf Denied Judge Will Set Date for Death
of Thompson

Peoria, Ill., Aug. 15.—(AP)—Motions on a new trial for Gerald Thompson, 25, convicted and condemned by a jury to die in the electric chair for the slaying of Mildred Hallmark, 19, will be argued tomorrow before Judge Joseph Daily in Peoria county Circuit court.

Ren Thurman, court-appointed defender of the tractor plant mechanic who confessed he slew the pretty cafeteria hostess when she resisted his advances, indicated he will argue that certain members of the jury which returned the verdict had expressed opinions as to Thompson's guilt prior to the opening of the trial.

Judge Daily's refusal to grant the defense a continuance when the trial started July 22, five weeks after the girl's battered and nearly nude body was found in a ditch at lonely Springdale cemetery, also will play a part. Thurman said last week. The delay, he told the court when the trial opened, was necessary if Thompson's mother, Mrs. Florence Whiteside, was to testify concerning his heredity.

The mother, confined to a hospital after a nervous breakdown which her physician attributed to her son's arrest, was unable to testify, "since it might prove fatal" a doctor told the court.

Judge Daily said last week that if he over-ruled the new trial motions he would set a date for execution, probably late in October.

Shoemakers In Sullivan
Burn Union Charter After Being Allegedly MisledSimilar Action Reported Taken in Charleston

(Telegraph Special Service)

Decatur, Ill., Aug. 15.—At a meeting of union shoe makers held Tuesday evening at Sullivan, Ill., Brown Shoe Co., employees voted to burn the charter which was recently issued to what was purported to have been a union organization. At a meeting last evening at Charleston, Ill. where the Brown company also operates a plant, the action of the Sullivan local was the chief subject of discussion, and according to reports circulated today, the same action was taken. Officials of the union, however, discredited the reports.

At Sullivan, the action was taken when union organizers claimed to have signed 80 per cent of the employees of the Brown plant, and on investigation, it was found that less than 30 per cent of the employees had signed the union agreement. The Sullivan plant employees 540 workers and has a weekly pay roll amounting to upwards of $8,000.

President Tyrell Lawyer of the Sullivan local declined to discuss the situation, and it was reported that action would be taken to keep the plant open and that the workers would return as soon as operations are resumed. President Bush of the Brown company was reported to have stated, from his office at St. Louis, that the action of the union organization in destroying its charter would probably result in the early opening of the plant on an open shop basis.

The plant was closed two weeks ago following a dispute centering around the laying off of a single employee. The union organization submitted three demands, one for an increased wage amounting to 25 per cent, arbitration boards and a referendum election of union representatives in the plant, it was stated.

County Seeks to Recover Costs of Hospital Inquests

Lee county will probably recover a sum of approximately $500 from the state of Illinois, subject to the decision of the State Court of Claims, in an action which was instituted this week by Chairman William Burhenn of the board of supervisors, Coroner Frank M. Banker and State's Attorney Edward Jones.

The amount will cover the cost of inquests for wards of the Dixon state hospital over a period of several months.

The county officials met with Dr. Warren G. Murray, managing officer of the institution this week and arranged to submit a statement showing the cost to Lee county for the holding of inquests on state wards over a several months period to the Court of Claims. For some time members of the board of supervisors have complained of the cost to the county of conducting the inquests on state wards and upon his election to the chairmanship of the board Chairman William Burhenn launched an investigation with State's Attorney Jones and Coroner Banker, assisting, which would result in the payment by the state of the cost of all inquests for state hospital patients.

Roosevelt Will Leave
White House This Eve

Washington, Aug. 15.—(AP)—President Roosevelt will leave the White House late tonight for a week end at his home in Hyde Park, N. Y.

Apparently satisfied with progress in the senate on his tax bill, Roosevelt decided early today to make the trip.

Mrs. Roosevelt for a long time has planned a family party at Hyde Park on Saturday to celebrate the twenty-first birthday of Franklin, Jr., the third son.

EDUCATOR RESIGNS

Champaign, Ill.—University of Illinois officials disclosed the resignation of Prof. Alvin R. Cahn, faculty member for 12 years and widely known as a lecturer in zoology, and his departure two weeks ago to "take a rest." Cahn filed $25,000 libel and defamation of reputation suits last spring against O. C. Hitchner of Freeport and Monticello and C. O. Ellis of Grayville, alleging reflections on his work as a teacher. The suits have not been brought to trial.

Illustrated Talks
For P. T. A. Meetings
To Be Enjoyed Here

W. Miller's office. The service may be arranged for in any school of the county for any occasion and will doubtless be in great demand during the winter months.

The county superintendent's office has purchased a Keystone stereopticon lantern with curtain and slides will be provided on any subject desired by the teacher or organization sponsoring the program. Stereoscopes and stereographs have also been purchased by several of the rural schools to be used by the pupils in the various educational subjects.

GIFT OF 25 MIL-LION DISCLOSEDRockefeller, Jr., Made
Gifts of Unrevealed Beneficiaries

Washington, Aug. 15.—(AP)—A gift of about $25,000,000 in June by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., to unidentified individuals and charitable organizations was reported today by the securities commission.

It consisted of 2,100,000 shares of Socony Vacuum Corporation common stock, and it reduced his holdings in this security to 2,815,000 shares.

This gift followed one made in March of 85,000 shares of the same stock, valued at about $1,000,000, to unnamed educational and scientific corporations.

Recipients Undisclosed.
The recipients were not disclosed in the report made under the securities exchange act, which requires officers and directors and holders of more than 10 per cent of a corporation's securities to inform the commission promptly of changes in their holdings.

The latest gift so reduced the Rockefeller holdings that he no longer has 10 per cent of Socony. Since he is neither director nor officer of the company he will not be required to report further changes.

Reports today and previously show Rockefeller holds various oil securities with a current market value of about $180,000,000.

Besides the 2,852,000 of Socony Vacuum held as of June 30, he had 1,306,828 common shares of Standard Oil of California as of Feb. 28, 1935, and 2,142,425 shares of Standard Oil of New Jersey.

Hoover and Roosevelt are "Twin Bed Mates Disaster," Says Huey

New York, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Senator Huey Long announced today he would be an independent candidate for the presidency in 1936 "if the Republicans go Hoover, the Democrats go Roosevelt and there is no other liberal candidate."

The Louisiana political boss called Hoover and Roosevelt "twin bed mates of disaster."

"If some liberal candidate would be chosen by either party," the senator said, "I would support him. But it begins to look like the G. O. P. is being dominated by Mr. Hoover or someone of his calling."

"The liberal and progressive element is called upon to decide that we don't want a Hoover, that we know what is, or a Roosevelt, that we don't know what is."

Potato Production
Control is Voted

Washington, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Production control for potatoes, the nation's fourth food crop, was approved by the house yesterday by a 173 to 165 roll call vote.

The house agreed to the senate amendment to the AAA bill classifying potatoes as a basic commodity and authorizing the agriculture secretary to set up a production control plan.

The roll call vote was demanded after the amendment had been approved by a 113 to 100 standing vote.

Under the proposed control system, a tax of 75 cents a hundred pounds, averaging about 45 cents a bushel, would be collected on potatoes sold by producers in excess of their sales allotments.

Illinois General Assembly Made Appropriations for Two Non-Existing Departments of State Govt.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 15.—(AP)—Appropriations to two non-existing departments of state government were made by the 59th general assembly.

A study of the 82 bills in which the legislature appropriated $388,999,244 for the expenses of state government in the next two years showed that in one of them—that for the ordinary and contingent expenses of the attorney general's office—the assembly authorized Otto Kerner to pay salaries to attorneys for the departments of trade and commerce and purchases and construction.

In spite of the action of its predecessor in abolishing the two departments, the 1935 legislature, in allotting $45,000 to the attorney general to hire attorneys for code offices, included them in the appropriation.

At the same time it failed to designate the department of insurance as one of the code offices for which the attorney general might hire an attorney.

SENATORS AND CONGRESSMEN
DECLARE TRUCEDeclare Armistice in Battle Over Custody of Howard Hopson

Washington, Aug. 15.—(AP)—The way for senate lobby committee examination of Howard C. Hopson, elusive utility operator, was cleared somewhat today with readiness in the house to drop the dispute over who should have custody over him.

Through counsel, Hopson announced willingness to testify on the senate side about his Associated Gas & Electric moves against the bill to regulate holding companies, once his appearance before the house committee was concluded.

Where he was remained a mystery.

The house rules committee resolved that he should be arrested at once, but directed that he be available to the senate when not being questioned on the house side. This evidently ended differences between the two branches.

O'Connor Opposed.
Chairman O'Connor indicated, however, that he might not call up the rules committee resolution in the house. He had protested the resolution, and his attitude left the question in the air to an extent.

The sergeant at arms, Chesley W. Jurney, had just reported to the senate that Chairman O'Connor of the house rules committee last night had refused to permit serving of a senate contempt writ on Hopson while he was still under a house subpoena.

He told of having served a writ on William A. Hill, Hopson's attorney, and that he was ready to appear before the bar of the senate on the allegation that he had interfered with an attempt to subpoena Hopson.

May Delay Trial.
Chairman Black of the senate lobby committee said the senate probably would not proceed with the trial of Hill until his client was brought before the senate bar.

Earlier, both Speaker Byrns and Representative Snell, the Republican leader, had promised support for the technical move to arrest Hopson and hold him for the house committee so the senate could not reach him.

Senatorial attempt to seize Hopson while he was under house subpoena was termed unjustified and "an affront to the house" by Byrns.

Move a Surprise.
While Black charged in the senate that O'Connor was "protecting" Hopson from testifying now to the senate lobby investigators, the rules committee created a surprise by its move to leave the way open for such testimony.

O'Connor and others had advocated that Hopson be held by the house and turned over to the senate only when the house was through with him for good.

In the senate, Black recommended that the senate take no further immediate action in the case. The senate agreed to postpone Hill's trial until the head of

Italian Flood Toll
is Estimated at 850

Turin, Italy, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Engineers, physicians and relief workers tolled together today trying to create order in the flood-desolated area about Avada, where the collapse of a hydro-electric dam loosed waters yesterday that spread death and destruction.

While scores of survivors were treated at hospitals, the grieving remnants of families visited the emergency morgue and sought in the ruins of homes for missing relatives.

No official death list has been published, but an unconfirmed report set the fatalities at 850. Officials, fearful of alarming the populace, are making every effort to minimize the proportions of the disaster.

THE EXTRA EFFORT

By Joseph Fort Newton

HENRY BERGSON is one of the greatest living thinkers, to whom all of us are deeply in debt whether we know it or not. Some of us have waited for years for his latest book, which closes with these words:

"Men do not sufficiently realize that their future is in their own hands. Theirs is the task of determining, first of all, whether they want to go on living or not."

"Their's the responsibility, then for deciding if they want merely to live, or intend to make just the extra effort required for fulfilling even on this refractory planet, the essential function of the universe, which is a machine for the making of gods."

Such words bring a man up with a start, and make him put the questions to himself, point-blank: Am I really living or merely keeping alive? Driving or drifting, living or loafing—what is it?

As a character in a recent play put it, "How tragic it is that people seem content with what is not life at all." They seem satisfied just to get by, unwilling to make the extra effort to live!

It is a beautiful world in which we live, so beautiful at times that it hurts. Every day beauty passes by with the sun or her wings but, alas, we do not make the effort to see it and rejoice in it.

A golden-hearted poet, who died the other day, spoke of a man "so wrapped in rectitude" that even his eyes were filmed a little with it, blinding him to life, making him not a god but just a grub.

How easy it is to lose faith, give up, let go, and turn cynic, lacking the extra effort to hold a high faith, live by it despite all odds, and fight for it if need be, lest we lose our very soul!

Many a home would be happier, sweeter, and more like heaven, if we made the extra effort to be courteous, patient, and kind. How many of our lives could be untwisted if we made the effort to do it!

"A machine for the making of gods!" What a world it would be if humanity made the extra effort to fulfill its destiny!

Pictorial Photograph Is Howell's Hobby

Edward Howell, of Milwaukee, who is visiting his mother, Mrs. E. N. Howell, has a very fine collection of rare photographs.

Mr. Howell is a research chemist on the staff of the DuPont Co., with pictorial photography merely as a hobby. A view of the collection reveals the fact that Mr. Howell has a genius for photography. These pictures are taken with a miniature camera using motion picture films. It is not a moving picture camera, however. To see the original size of the photograph, which is little larger than a postage stamp, and the clear, beautiful enlargement is a revelation in science and skill.

During Mr. Howell's three years of exhibiting, his pictures have been shown in Los Angeles, Toronto, Pittsburgh, Boston, Portland, Me., Barcelona, Spain; Brussels, Belgium; Cracow, Poland; and this year his pictures were exhibited in the salon at the Chicago Art Institute.

Mr. Howell is the president of the Photo Pictorialists of Milwaukee, which is composed of a group of lawyers, bankers, chemists, manufacturers, and merchants, who have a common interest in the realization of their hobby. They exhibit their pictures every spring in Milwaukee. Next May the Milwaukee club will exhibit at the International salon of Milwaukee. We hope Dixon people will be fortunate enough to see the collection some time in the future.

Pictorial photography, commonly called candid photograph is being widely used by metropolitan newspapers, as it is possible to take a picture indoors without artificial light, and have it enlarged to any size.

The Bureau of Air Commerce now requires static reports on new types of aircraft before inspections and flight tests can be undertaken.

Reunion of Prairieville School Wednesday a Great Success

By LEROY POWERS
Time turned backward in its flight Wednesday for the old time pupils of the Prairieville school, and they became boys and girls again "just for today."

Gathered with their families to the number of more than 200 in their second annual reunion, they relived the old school days of 20, 30, 40, 60, and even 70 years ago. They came back today to the old schoolyard, the scene of their youthful joys and sorrows, their triumphs and heartaches, their childhood love affairs and overnight quarrels.

From every direction they came in, from farm, city and metropolis, and from the center of the tall, corn state, many of them in their high-powered, stream-lined cars, but their thoughts were back to the old "home and buggy days" when they drove the old family nag, rode horseback or walked two or three miles through mud and snow to school.

They sat in groups, talking of their families, their farms, homes, crops, or the New Deal; but in memory they were children sitting there confiding to each other their dearest hopes and ambitions, some of which have been realized, but many of which were but beautiful castles in the air. In their young-ster's romping about they saw themselves in the old days, in their ball games, fox and geese and jealously, or playing house in the piles of dead leaves drifted in the fence corners.

They sat down at long tables spread under the trees loaded with an endless variety of foods to tempt the appetite, but to many the picnic dinner was no more eagerly awaited nor more satisfying than the cold lunches eaten from the tin dinner pails under those same trees so long ago.

As they listened to the program of music, talks and reminiscences, in fancy they were sitting together in the old brick schoolhouse waiting their turns to "speak their pieces," or going down on a misspelled word during the old spelling bee.

But though there was much thought and talk of the past, there had been a great deal of planning and working for the present. Committees had done their work well, and all necessary arrangements had been made for the convenience, comfort and happiness of the home-comers. A reception committee met all comers and helped people to meet old acquaintances. Plenty of chairs were provided under the shade trees. A platform had been erected for the use of officers and speakers. Prairieville troop of Boy Scouts had charge of a refreshment stand which was well patronized.

Ball games were in progress both forenoon and afternoon. Shortly after 2 o'clock the assemblage was called to order by the president, Earl Martin. Miss Marian Myers led in community singing.

Everett Myers, a representative of the Sterling Gazette, told of an interview he had recently with Joe Mitchell Chapple, noted author and journalist, and Mrs. Chapple, who was formerly Anna Ryder, a former Prairieville pupil, on their recent visit to Sterling.

Secretary's and treasurer's reports were read by Mrs. Bertha Friedrichs. During the singing of "Auld Lang Syne," an offering was taken. The nominating committee reported and all officers were re-elected as follows:

President, Earl Martin.
Vice-President, Wm. Landis.
Sec.-Treas., Bertha Friedrichs.

The election was followed by instrumental numbers by Sam Wechsler and by Warren and Wayne Friedrichs.

The president then called on former teachers, several of whom were present. Those who responded with short talks were Luella Powers, Lillian Coates, Nellie Miller, Sibbie Hoover, William Landis, Edna Pine, Lillian Harms, Clara McCune, Marguerite Richardson, and Ada Lehman. The two latter will teach the Prairieville school during 1935-36.

Several former pupils were called on for remarks, and reminiscent talks were made by Reuben Andreas, Ira Myers, A. R. Reitzel, Carl Lennon, Emma Klostermann and Kitty Ballou.

The report of the committee which drafted a constitution and by-laws was adopted. The organization is to be known as the Prairieville School Association.

Austin Powers sang an old song which was popular during his school days. The program closed with a vocal solo by Miss Marian Myers.

During the day many who had not previously had an opportunity to do so inspected the new modern equipped school building. Though the majority appreciate the superiority of the new over the old both in convenience and safety, yet there are some, perhaps, many of the older people to whom sentiment seems to appeal more strongly than utility and who can hardly be reconciled to the loss of the old school house memories and associations.

Those who came from the greatest distances were: Nellie Miller and Mrs. Minnie Bruhn of Chicago; Mrs. Emma Klostermann of Evanston; Mrs. Elizabeth Chase, Bluffton, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Ira Myers, Oak Park; Mrs. Christie Scholl Edinger and son of Winnetka; Mrs. W. D. Powers and Miss Ruth Powers of Rock Island; Mrs. Harlem Soher, Cedar Rapids; Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Andreas and son and daughter Lisbon, Iowa; Milton Hess and family of near Lanark; and Phillip Lennon of Clinton, Ia.

Committees which helped to make the reunion a success were as follows:
Program: Mrs. Chas. Reed, Mrs. Wilbur Myers, Mrs. John Becker.
Reception: Mrs. Kitty Ballou, Mrs. Charles Weaver, Miss Luella Powers, Lloyd Thummel, Austin Powers.

Table: Mary Andreas, Mrs. Ida Lefever and helpers.
Grounds: George Wechsler, Harry Friedrichs, J. B. Weaver.
Sports and Games: Ezra Long, Harold Manon, Melvin Reed, Weidun Nunemaker, Ernest Rutt.
Nominating: Ernest Klostermann, LeRoy Powers, Lulu Mason.

Constitution and By-Laws: LeRoy Powers, Barry Lennon, Mrs. Ida Lefever.

THE FIRST BILLION
Legalization of beer and liquor has brought its first billion dollars in revenue to federal, state and local governments. The lion's share of this, more than $700,000-000, has gone to the federal government in excise, license and customs revenue. The rest has gone to state and local governments.

The income from this source is rising steadily. Federal officials believe this is due to steady work in breaking up bootlegging. The percentage of bootleg liquor consumed is sometimes estimated as high as the normal consumption, but that seems unlikely in view of the fact that annual revenue from beer and liquor today is higher than the peak before prohibition.

The fact that these revenues are badly needed by federal and local government is in a sense a danger. It might well lead to a progressive letting down of the bars of regulation. Every governmental unit, national and local, must keep constantly in mind that there must be no re-lapse into pre-prohibition conditions. The iron hand of control must not be allowed to weaken because of the golden flood of revenue.

FORCING THE FARM ISSUE
The question of processing taxes and the AAA farm program is fast approaching a showdown. As 600 suits by processors pile up against the special taxes, collection has already dropped to half what it was at the peak.

Soon the collections will fall far below the benefits promised to be paid to farmers for crop reduction.

Then there are only two alternatives: cutting out
the benefits or paying them from the treasury.

Up to now processing taxes and benefits have practically balanced. That is, consumers, and to some extent processors, have paid the farmer's benefits. But adding a half-billion dollars to the already overburdened national budget is something else again.

The situation must remain in confusion until the U.
S. Supreme Court decides next winter on constitutionality of the AAA.

SURVEY SHOWS ROOM FOR IMPROVEMENTS
Many a resident of a large midwestern city the other day undoubtedly read with a combination of doubt and shame some figures taken from a survey of the city made by the government with the aid of CWA and FERA work-relief people.

The figures showed:
THAT 8805 families in that city's metropolitan area are living in homes unfit for human beings to dwell in.
THAT there are 29,258 families without tubs or shower baths.
THAT 3867 families are without running water.
THAT 5702 families still light their homes with kerosene lamps.
THAT there are 14,108 families without the sanitary necessity of a private indoor toilet.

All this is no reflection on that city, which was Cleveland, Ohio. Official figures on conditions elsewhere show that there are many cities which do not stack up so well.
In fact, Cleveland is one of the better cities in regard to its general standard of living.

Of course there were also redeeming features, showing the efforts that are being made to advance the standard of living.

For instance, there are 88,151 wage-earners in the city who ride to work in automobiles. There are 57,201 families using electric refrigerators. There are 14,203 families with two or more automobiles.

It is not necessarily a black picture at all for it shows clearly that many, many thousands of workers are living in a comfort that could scarcely be imagined by workers in any other country in the world.

Nevertheless, the inadequate standard available to even a small minority is a blot on any city and a danger.
Surveys like this are the first step toward improving the conditions they expose. For unless we first get a clear picture of our shortcomings, it is hard to move toward better things.

Every city would do well to think about these statistics, for no city can afford to allow such conditions to exist without making a determined effort to better them.

Further, the potential domestic market for housing, plumbing, lighting, and similar improvements is clearly shown. It waits for the time when people lacking those vital things get enough money to buy them.

If great moral issues are treated rashly and clumsily
we may, with the best intentions, plunge the world into a great catastrophe.—Sir Samuel Hoare, British foreign secretary.

Nationalism goes back to the middle ages, the Reformation, puts people in a frame of mind hard to deal with.—Prof. Parker T. Moon of Columbia University.

Anytime I need any one to protect me morally, physically, or politically, I'll quit office.—Mayor F. H. La-Guardia of New York.

There is no such thing as a strike on a relief job.—
Federal Relief Administrator Harry Hopkins.

I'm going hunting for betrayers of the Democratic platform.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr.

This country stands for sanity.—Queen Wilhemina of Holland.

The leopard-elephant turned round and quickly dashed across the ground. Once more it sailed right through the hoop that Scouty held up high.

Wee Dotty shouted, "That was great. He didn't even hesitate. Why lots of beasts that I have seen would be too scared to try."

"Of course they would," the Trainer said. "They run away and hide, instead. All of my beasts, however,
have been trained. That's why they're good."

"When I took this big beast in hand, I thought he'd never understand but he learned quickly 'cause
he did the very best he could."

"Now, there's a lesson, tots, for
you. In everything you try to do, put forth your finest efforts. That is what you really need."

"Don't get discouraged right away and soon hard things will seem like play. It's folks who have the pluck to stick right at it, who succeed."

Then Duncy gave the bunch a

Soon the old Trainer said, "I feel that you would like to see a seal.
Here comes one with a parrot's head. Now isn't he a sight?"

"I'll say he is," cried Windy. "C—
the strangest sight I hope to see.
Why, if I meet him all alone, I'd run with all my might!"

The Trainer gave two cymbals to the seal and said, "Come on, now,
do your stuff, and do it very well,
for these wee girls and boys."

The clanging started right away and soon the bunch heard Dotty say "Oh, goodness, I must hold my ears, that's such an awful noise!"

WEEKLY SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Text: Luke 10:38-42;
John 11:17-28
The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for August 18.

BY WM. E. GILROY, D. D.
Editor of Advance

Martha is offered for study in our lesson as a type of homemaker. With all justice to a woman who may be greatly wronged in a contrast that our narrative has made between her and Mary,
one may question just a little her right to the title.

Our homes would be much poorer and probably less comfortable without the Marthas with their care for many things, with their concern for dust and disorder, and their worship of boomsticks and dust cloths, to say nothing of their zeal for cooking, and seeing that we are well fed and, in general, well cared for.

But such zeal at times does not tend entirely to the making of the home. The rigid discipline of too efficient housekeeping may be apt, on occasion, to break, rather than make, the home.

A Canadian artist, who attained some fame, once contrasted the conditions in his home with those in the home in which he was brought up.

In his early childhood he was in a house where the costly furniture was covered lest the children should scratch or mar it. The home was not a place of enjoyment where things were used for their intended purpose, but a place where discipline and restriction were evident at every turn.

He determined that when he had a home and children of his own, the home should be a place where furniture was used and enjoyed—a place where normal and joyous life was lived by the family insofar as he could arrange and encourage it.

Good home-making must take into account the sentimental Mary as well as the practical Martha. It was Mary's glory, and her fault,
that she forgot some commonplace duties and commonplace things in her contemplation of their guest and all that He had to teach them.

Here was opportunity incomparable with matter-of-fact routine.

After trailing Sublette by a score of 2 to 1 the Compton Oilers came from behind in the seventh inning
of the Illinois Valley League, here at the local park Sunday to win their 7th game in twelve starts.
With Maytown winning over Ka-kusha Park ties the locals with the former for fifth in the season's league race.

Throwing out the usual weak spots of any ball game, Sunday's afternoon affair was a great ball game with A. Chaon furnishing the pitching power for Compton and "Sandie" Cosgrove delivering for the evaders. A. Chaon who has done little twirling thus far, proved beyond a shadow of a doubt his ability to deliver in pinches, and gave way to eight hits, while his opposition was nipped for seven.

Compton started things moving in the first inning, when Grove singled, W. Chaon sacrificed, Mon-taylor singled to right to score Grove. Before scoring again in the seventh Sublette pushed across two runs. In seventh Bradshaw and C.

Henry crossed the home plate for the final tally.

Webber will take his club to Ohio,
which will be the first time the two teams have met this season
due to inclement weather when the game was scheduled to be played here on the local lot.

DAILY HEALTH

TREATING RHEUMATIC FEVER

Rheumatic fever is a disease which involves the body as a whole.
However, certain of the body's systems (circulatory, joint, nervous, etc.) may prove particularly susceptible.

Thus, in a study of some 1,200
rheumatic children, it was found that 64 per cent suffered particular involvements of the heart; 39 per cent suffered severe involvements of the joints (so-called rheumatic arthritis); 29 per cent suffered chorea, which is considered to be rheumatic fever involvement of the nervous system; and 18 per cent suffered muscular rheumatism.

These percentages add up to more than 100, because certain of the patients suffered more than one of these system involvements.

Rheumatic disease may occur in early childhood, but is rare under three years of age. After three the disease becomes more common, and increases in frequency until the tenth year, when it begins to decline rapidly.

It is most prevalent in the late winter and spring months. Some students of the disease report that it is ten times more prevalent among children of the poor class than among the well-to-do.

Once before we compared rheumatic fever and tuberculosis. Their treatments also are comparable.
For, once the diagnosis of rheumatic disease is made, there is at the present time just one effective thing to do—subject the patient to prolonged rest in bed.

General measures, of course, can be taken to improve the child's condition. These include plenty of food containing all the factors necessary for growth and nutrition, and cod-liver oil, sunlight and fresh air.
Pain is treated medicinally. Infections elsewhere in the body, such as in the head, sinuses or teeth, must be remedied. Improving the child's environment (convalescent homes,
and the like) has some effect.

It is estimated that only 50 per cent of the children who have rheumatic fever suffer permanent heart damage.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Evil shall slay the wicked; and they that hate the righteous shall be desolate.—Psalms 34:21.

It is some compensation for great evils, that they enforce great lessons.—Bovee.

uable cow recently by some sort of lung trouble, the animal being insured.

Farmers in the east end of the county consider that if the prairie chickens and other birds had not been killed so thoroughly, damage from grasshoppers would not have resulted as it has this year, and are now taking steps to prevent further destruction of the birds.

est and most influential citizens of Lee county, died yesterday at his home on Seventh street and Galena avenue.

Mrs. Isaac Cummings, resident of Dixon for the past 15 years, died yesterday morning at her home on

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often
Brings Happy Relief Of Pain

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble
may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are one of Nature's chief ways of taking the acids and waste out of the blood. If they don't pass 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing.

If you have trouble with frequent bladder passages with scanty amount which often smart and burn, the 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes and dizziness.

Don't wait for serious trouble. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS—which have been used successfully for over 40 years by millions of people. They give happy relief and will help flush out the 15 miles of kidney tubes. Get DOAN'S PILLS

DIXON TROOPERS TO ARRIVE HOME SUNDAY MORNING

Will Break Camp Early
to Make Trip Home in Big Trucks

With conclusion of the Governor's day program at Camp Grant today, 6,500 Illinois national guard troops will bring to a close the actual training schedule of their twelfth annual encampment.

Tomorrow will be spent largely in breaking camp, with troops packing their equipment and striking the largest tents in which they have lived for two weeks. They will first pitch their individual "pup" tents, which will be used Friday and Saturday nights until their departure Saturday and Sunday for the various home armories throughout the state.

H. Q. Troops Out First
First troops to leave the camp will be those assigned to the 33rd division headquarters, who will leave at 12:01 a. m. Saturday for Chicago.

At 3 a. m. Saturday special troops, tank company, 108th engineers, headquarters of the 66th infantry brigade, 131st infantry, 132nd infantry, 8th infantry, and the 33rd division aviation unit will depart for Chicago, arriving at 9 a. m.

When the trucks return from transporting the first group of men to Chicago, the 108th medical regiment, third battalion of the 131st infantry, the first battalion of the 132nd infantry, and the second battalion of the 8th infantry will leave at 4 p. m., scheduled to arrive in Chicago at 9 p. m. Saturday.

Sunday Movements
Troops leaving on Sunday will include the following:

At 4 a. m.: Organizations whose home armories are at Pontiac, Waukegan, Ottawa, Dixon, Streator, Aurora, Yorkville, Kewanee, Kankakee, Elgin, Sterling, Decatur, Sullivan, Danville, Champaign, Springfield, Peoria, Delavan and Urbana.

At 6 a. m.: Troops from Sycamore and Morris.

Rockford troops will leave camp at 7 a. m. Sunday. Chicago motor transport companies will leave at 1 p. m.

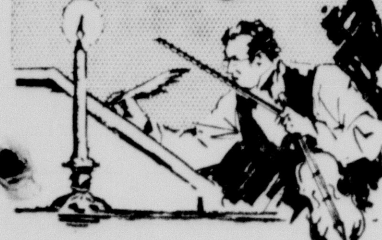

Troops will be transported to their homes by trucks which originally took them to camp two weeks ago. Use of trucks for the transportation of troops, an innovation which was tried at the beginning of camp was considered highly successful. Troops in the extreme southern section of the state numbering approximately 350 will travel by train, the only exception to the use of trucks.

Three special trains are scheduled to leave Camp Grant between 12:01 and 1:05 a. m. Saturday morning, taking troops to the downstate cities of Cairo, Carbondale, Champaign, Lawrenceville, Salem, Springfield, Peoria, Paris, Danville, and Decatur.

Stories in STAMPS
By I. S. Klein

MUSIC MASTER
At 13!

BORN in the simple surroundings of an Austrian village, son of a poor parish schoolmaster Franz Schubert died at the early age of 31 almost in the same humble environment. Yet this young genius, after the age of 13, composed well over 600 musical selections, many of which have stirred the souls of music lovers ever since.

In this short period of 18 years, Schubert drew for his songs from the poetry of more than 100 different writers, more than 70 of his pieces coming from Goethe alone. He made the artistic song one of the finest forms of modern music, and was perhaps the first to produce true "songs without words." And nearly every form of musical composition was included.

Schubert's portrait appears on a stamp that Austria issued in 1922, with those of five other great musicians.

CONGRESS WAS NOT FAVORABLE TO ILLINOIS

Prairieville Circle Enjoyed Meet at Mason Home, Aug. 7

Washington, Aug. 15.—(AP)—this session of congress ends, possibly not a single bill of particular importance to Illinois alone will have been passed.

Representative William W. Arnold, Democrat of Robinson, Ill., pushed to passage the postoffice and treasury appropriation bills; Representative Everett M. Dirksen, Republican of Pekin, Ill., obtained approval of a measure to rid the District of Columbia of its "hidden bars" and Representative Adolph J. Sabath, Democrat of Chicago, was given authority to continue with his investigation into real estate bondholders' reorganizations. However, no legislation vital to Illinois only has received floor consideration.

Illinois ends the session with only 25 members of the house. Michael L. Igce, Democratic representative at large, resigned to become U. S. district attorney at Chicago. Arnold is resigning Sept. 15 to take a nine-year term on the U. S. Board of tax appeals.

Both of these seats probably will remain vacant, since they can be filled only by special elections. In view of the overwhelming Democratic majority in the house, leaders were of the opinion that Governor Henry Horner would spare the state the additional expense needed for such polls.

Edwardsville Talks of Municipal Plant

Edwardsville, Ill., Aug. 15.—(AP)—City officials today were studying an engineers' report on a proposed municipal electric light and power plant.

The report, to be presented to the city council Tuesday, estimated the cost of erecting a plant operated by steam at $393,000 and one powered with Diesel engines at $384,600.

As an alternative, the report suggested the city purchase facilities of private utilities now serving Edwardsville.

Weekly Crop Survey Issued at Capital

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 15.—(AP)—The weekly Illinois crop report by the weather bureau Wednesday said small grain harvest is virtually completed.

"Threshing is well along," it said. "Results continue variable and disappointing, with considerable oats light and discolored."

"Progress and condition of corn, aside from being rather weedy, is mostly good to excellent in the north, with more than half earing and silking and soil moisture ample. In the south condition is variable, mostly fair, and there has been some deterioration and slight firing because of heat and lack of sufficient rain and the crop averages less than three-fourths tasselless."

Sponges were once used for padding helmets and greaves, according to Aristotle.

GREYHOUND IS CONQUERER IN HAMLETONIAN

Fastest Time Made for 4-Year-Old in Classic

Goshen, N. Y., Aug. 15.—(AP)—Winning $18,670 in the light harness horse racing's premier event with a colt hailed as the greatest trotter since Peter Manning would thrill most people, but not the veteran Sep Palin, who yesterday drove Greyhound to a straight heat victory in the Hambletonian.

"Sure I liked to win the money," said the 57-year-old Indianapolis horseman after seeing the grey speedster bedded down for the night at Good Time park.

"But honestly, I got no more of a kick out of it than winning a $300 race."

Maybe it's because of the habit that Palin has of turning up with two minute performers. He's driven several of them, including three great pacers: Winnie, His Majesty and Star Etawah, all owned by E. J. Baker of St. Charles, Ill., as is Greyhound.

Under his guidance Winnie, hung up a record of 1:57 3-4, a world record for geldings, at Toledo in 1928, while His Majesty paced a mile in 1:59 3-4 last year to establish a new mark for four-year olds. He drove Star Etawah over a mile in 1:59 3-4 four years ago.

Greatest Trotter

"Greyhound is the greatest trotter I have ever handled," said Palin, who has been training horses 30 years.

Greyhound traveled the two heats yesterday in 2:02 1-4 and 2:02 3-4 for the fastest time ever turned in by a winner of the Hambletonian. It was bettered only once in the event, when Hollywood Dennis went a mile in 2:01 1-4 to take a heat from the Marchioness in 1932.

Palin joined up with Baker, one of the two heirs to the fortune of John W. (Bet a Million) Gates, some ten years ago. They got Greyhound out of an Indianapolis auction from Henry H. Knight of Chicago for $900. Yesterday's victory boosted the son of Guy Abbey's total earnings to $27,279.35, with 12 victories in 15 starts.

Nearly 40,000 saw the lanky grey come from far back in his second heat to win much as he pleased, for he was the odds-on-choice to ship the eight other starters.

University of Oklahoma officials estimate they can aid 600 students with relief money in the next school term.

"JUST BEGUN TO FIGHT" CLAIMS OF CARDS BUNCH

Beligerent Boys From St. Louis Meet the Giants

By ALLAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

New York, Aug. 15.—(AP)—The "Gashouse Gang" from St. Louis No. 1 menace to the pennant hopes of the erratic New York Giants, say they have just begun to fight.

They're referring, of course, to the National league opposition, not themselves. It seems scarcely two months ago that the world championship Cardinals were scrapping violently with each other, on and off the ball field, while New York dominated the pennant race.

The situation has changed with great rapidity. They are all pulling together now.

"Maybe it did us all a lot of good to let off some steam and get down to business," suggested one of the milder members of the "Gashouse Gang."

"Anyway, the boys are all bearing down now. We are thinking about that world series dough again. We figure to collect it and I don't mean the losers' end."

Not Such a Sensation

The scrappiest baseball team, though fighting back to get an even break yesterday, didn't wreck the Polo Grounds. Maybe it was the humidity. Maybe it was the absence of the great Dizzy Dean, who said he had a cold and wanted to rest his nerves before having a fling at the league leaders today.

The nearest to an outbreak occurred in the ninth inning of the first game when "Lippy Leo" Durocher, Cardinal captain, had some words with Gus Mancuso at the plate. The Giants backstop displayed some pugilistic tendencies, drawing both teams from the dugouts on the run, but not a punch was tossed. It was a big disappointment to 50,868 customers.

The world champions have a wholesome respect for the Giants.

OLD KINGFISH INSISTS HE'LL BATTLE AGAIN

"Leaping" Lena Adds Her Vociferous Support, Too

By CHARLES DUNKLEY
Chicago, Aug. 15.—(AP)—In Maxwell street behind the wheel of a brand new creation, painted a Kelly-green, sat the King of the Krakows, fish-eye Levinsky himself, with sister Leaping Lena Levy, her hair another shade of red, finger nails painted ruby color, in the back seat.

Old Fisheye, his white shirt open at the throat and wearing no tie, bellowed his intentions to continue in the prize ring.

"Hey, you louse, you're just the guy I was looking for," he bellowed. "I want you to put it in the papers that the Kingfish ain't through yet."

"So you're going to continue in the ring?" Levinsky was asked.

"Huh," he replied blankly, then smiled cunningly.

"Sure," he said, "why not? The next time I'll use my knob. I didn't use my knob when I fought Louis. There's the rub, palsy-walsy. If I had used my knob I wouldn't be where I was at."

Lena's "Nickel's Worth"

"That's right King, you tell 'em," screamed Leaping Lena. "That bum hit you enough on the knob. It's in the belly where you should take 'em. You can say for the Krakows that Fisheye ain't through. The King ain't dead. He's coming back. And he'll fight with his brains—with his brains, I'm telling you. And any bum that says different, I'll wind a crowbar around his neck."

Since Joe Louis, the Detroit Bomber, forced the King of the Krakows to surrender in less than a round a week ago, the Kingfish has been in, what he termed, "exclusion," driving his new motor car, trying to forget. But questioning quickly brought the fight back to

HAAS DEFENDS GOLFING TITLE SUCCESSFULLY

Wins Way Quarter-Final Round 8-7 Favored Today

Birmingham, Mich., Aug. 15.—(AP)—Fred Haas, Jr., lanky defending champion from New Orleans, ruled a prime favorite today as entries from four states teed off for two rounds of match play to determine Friday's finalists in the Western Junior golf tournament.

Haas advanced to the quarter-finals with a scintillating 8 and 7 triumph over Ralph Ackerman of Chicago in their second round match yesterday. Haas disposed of Ackerman on the 12th green after completing the first nine in 31 four strokes under par, and went on in quest of the course record.

He missed his mark by a single stroke, winding up in 67. The record for the Oakland Hills course is 66, shared by Christ Brinke and Francis Ryan.

Faired With Barber

Haas was paired with Jerome Barber, Jacksonville, Ill., in today's first round. Barber defeated Fred Lamb, Jr., Detroit, 4 and 3, after Lamb had eliminated Fred Schwarze of Birmingham, Mich., the medalist, in their first-round contest.

Arthur L. Doering of Chicago provided one of the major second-round upsets by defeating Paul Leslie, Jefferson City, Mo., the southern intercollegiate champion, one up. Doering was paired in the quarterfinals with Charles Smead, another Chicagoan. Smead defeated Jim Marek of Chicago, 2 and 1, in the second round.

Bill Castleman, Louisville, Notre Dame student, won his way to the quarterfinals by turning back Bill Richart, Champaign, Ill., one up. He was paired with Billy Warren, Detroit, who nosed out Keith Johnson, Bloomington, Ill., one up.

Walter Burkemo, 17-year-old Detroit, and Joe Franco of Chicago met in the other quarterfinal match.

BIGGER, BETTER ARMY AND NAVY TO COST $6 PER

Appropriation for National Defense Totals $806,446,829

Washington, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Aiming at a bigger and better army and navy in 1936, the government will spend on the two services a sum equivalent to about $6.35 for each man, woman and child in the country.

Revised figures, including military funds in the second deficiency bill, increase total appropriations for national defense by the present Congress to $806,446,829. Of this $458,684,379 goes to the navy, and $347,762,450 to the army.

The navy's 1936 appropriations show an increase of $174,000,000 over 1935, while the army is getting $57,000,000 more than last year. Analysis of the appropriations show that for the increased expenditure of approximately $271,000,000 the army and navy will get more men, more airplanes, more warships, and some new equipment.

Pay Cuts Restored
Officials said, however, that a considerable part of the increased cost of maintaining army and navy has been made necessary by higher cost of living and equipment, and restoration of pay cuts.

Nearly $121,000,000 has been allotted for continuing construction of 62 vessels now being built, and laying keels of 24 more warships. About $23,000,000 has been earmarked for beginning work on 15 destroyers, 5 submarines, 2 light cruisers, and one aircraft carrier.

To buy new planes the navy got $26,700,000—an increase of $20,500,000 over last year.

Officials said the remainder of the navy's increase will be absorbed by enlistment of 10,000 more "gobs"—increasing manpower to 92,500—and in higher prices for most everything the navy eats, wears, uses or does.

Army Expenditures
The army's appropriation this year was $338,112,450, but the second deficiency bill added $9,850,000 for new buildings at West Point and an airdrome in Hawaii, and $1,800,000 for increased cost of the doughboys' "three squares" a day.

The army's $97,000,000 increase will be absorbed by these expenditures, among others:

$20,000,000 to increase its size from 118,750 men to 165,000.
$20,000,000 to restore economy pay cuts.
$18,000,000 more for plane purchases (however, officials said that because of increased cost of materials and labor, this sum will give the air corps only about the same number of planes.)

Donville, Ill., Aug. 15.—(AP)—On the ground that a city ordinance authorizing the work violated the Illinois constitution, Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley has upheld a permanent injunction restraining the construction of a Centralia municipal light plant.

The ruling referred to an ordinance passed by the city council delegating the power of letting contracts, approving material and general supervision of construction to Secretary of the Interior Ickes as public works administrator.

The Illinois Power & Light Company filed the injunction suit, asking that the ordinance, which called for issuance of $477,000 in utility certificates, be declared void.

Judge Lindley issued the injunction order last week and upheld the ruling in his finding of facts and conclusion of law today.

NEWS of the CHURCHES

REVIVAL AT BAPTIST

Interest is increasing in the evangelistic services at the Baptist church. Keith Taber is leading us in a great way in singing great gospel songs. The attentive audience joined enthusiastically in singing such hymns as "There is Power in the Blood" and "Are You Washed in the Blood?" Rev. Roy O. Beaman is giving a series of five minute talks on "What Baptists Believe." Baptists emphasize the need for an experience of grace and imperil their spirituality as a people when they are lax on this point. One must feel the load of his sins and turn to Jesus Christ for salvation. One meets Jesus face to face in a definite conversion. Baptists believe in heartfelt religion and the insufficiency of mere outward profession. There can be no substitute for the work of grace in the soul.

A delegation came from the Freeport Baptist church, and John Shearer and Keith Taber sang a soul-stirring duet, "Willing to Take the Cross." Brother Beaman read Matthew 22:1-14 and brought a great message on "The Man Without the Wedding Garment." He drew three vivid pictures from the story: Supplied Need, Rejected Mercy, and Deserved Doom. The oriental scene of a wedding feast in honor of a king's son pictures the matchless dignity of the gospel. The custom was that the king provided the bountiful spread, the expensive wedding garment, and everything to make Bread of Life for hungry men. The wedding garment is the spotless robe of Jesus' righteousness. The man who went without a wedding garment could not say he was too poor, or did not have time, or that some one might do better than he. He was inexcusable because all things were made ready by the king. All must come as poor and naked before Him, and thank God, they will be clothed. Beware lest you be the man without the wedding garment because it will bring a more fearful spectacle of deserved doom. The cross now invites every one but later the wrath of the Lamb will consume those who reject the mercies of Jesus. The man bound and cast out pictures separation from God and for those who have left Him out of their lives here. How dark their abode and how terrible their weeping and gnashing of teeth who do not have robes washed and made white in the blood of the Lamb. The pastor closed in prayer.

Every morning there will be services at 10:00. Prayer meeting at 7:15 P. M. At 7:30 this evening Reverend Beaman will use this theme, "A Good Man Who Went to Hell and a Bad Man Who Went to Heaven."

Shipbuilders Look to White House to Settle Long Strike

Camden, N. J., Aug. 15.—(AP)—The 4,000 striking employees of the New York Shipbuilding Corporation looked to the White House today for another move toward settlement of their 14-week walkout.

Rejecting a five-point arbitration plan proposed by the navy and labor departments as "unprecedented," they appealed to President Roosevelt to attempt "a fair settlement of the strike."

Meanwhile navy contracts totaling $50,000,000 for construction of four destroyers and three cruisers were held up at the idle shipyards.

A three-man board of arbitrators named by the President was ready to open hearings on the government's proposals when the strikers rejected the plan last night.

The strikers protested the arbitration plan did not include recognition of the union. In a telegram the President was told union recognition must come "before the strike is called off."

The "urochs," or Europeans bison, is said to exist today in small numbers in the forest of Bialowieza, a national reservation in Poland.

FRENZIED NAZIS INCREASE DRIVE TO OUST JEWS

Catholics Also Suffer Persecution in New Hitler "Purge"

Berlin, Aug. 15.—Jews remained inside their homes today as Julius Streicher, most relentless and energetic of their suppressors, arrived to review at two mass meetings the progress of the Nazis' month-old anti-semitic drive.

As Streicher entered the capital like a crusader, exciting real concern among Jews over what further he might engender, official goads against them and Catholics continued in various parts of the Reich. Streicher, publisher of Der Stürmer, was announced as the speaker for a crowd of 20,000 persons tonight in the Sportsplatz, the city's largest assembly hall. Tickets were exhausted days ago.

A second address was arranged for an overflow crowd of equal size. Both demonstrations were prepared in an area of which Jews

With Law Makers

Washington, Aug. 15.—(AP)—The legislative situation today in congress:

The AAA amendments have been adjusted in conference after being passed by the senate and house and are awaiting final action by the two chambers.

In conference for adjustment of differences after being passed by both chambers are the bills dealing with prohibition of suits under the gold policy, utilities regulation, banking, liquor control TVA amendments and rivers and harbors.

The bills for tax revision, war profits limitation and ship subsidy have been passed by the house and await senate action.

The foods and drugs regulation and oil regulation bills and the Walsh measure to force labor standards on firms which contract with the government have been passed by the senate and await house action.

Neither house has passed the bills for bituminous coal control or midget money.

form 21 per cent of the population.

A spirited welcome was given the Nürnberg publisher on the occasion of his carrying the blood purge campaign into the heart of the Ghetto. The city flamed with red Nazi posters inscribed with the sentiments that form so important a part of his utterances.

"We will give the right answer to Hebrews," read one of the cards. Meanwhile measures against Jews which are gradually eliminating them from business piled up. The principal Jewish paper, "Israelische Amilenblatt," was ordered suppressed until Nov. 10.

Close Jewish Throats

Four Jewish-owned theaters in Hanover were closed by the police after a street demonstration against them.

The mayor of Dortmund issued an order forbidding the Jews either to patronize the municipal pawnshop or attend its auctions. Pawn checks purchased from Jews will be neither renewed nor redeemed, the order provides. Middlemen acting for Jews will be barred from the auction sales.

The Catholic youth societies also felt Nazi strictures. Four units were dissolved in Württemberg districts and the property confiscated. They were charged with being public nuisances.

SECURITY BILL IS SIGNED AMID MUCH CEREMONY

Movies Record Speech and Actions of the Chief Executive

Washington, Aug. 15.—(AP)—President Roosevelt, embarking the government on the New Deal's vast social security program, foresees further social and economic adjustments to come.

When he signed the security bill into law yesterday, amid formal ceremony, he said it was a "cornerstone in a structure which is being built but is by no means complete."

(The bill, which the president said would apply to 30,000,000 persons, provides for contributory old age pensions, federal-state pensions for the aged needy, a federal-state unemployment insurance system, special care for dependent children and mothers. It contains a huge tax program to raise the funds.)

Legislators and high officials surrounded the president in the cabinet room as he affixed his signature. He spoke into sound cameras recording the event. A secretary told newsmen that the president used "about 30 pens" to sign the bill so that numerous requests for souvenirs could be satisfied.

Board Not Indicated

There was no definite indication today as to when the president will appoint the board of three members which will administer certain phases of the program.

The president's talk was brief. The measure, he said, "gives at least, some protection to 30,000,000 of our citizens who will reap direct benefits."

Declaring that the bill would make this session of congress "historic for all time," he added:

"We can never insure 100 percent of the population against 100 percent of the hazards and vicissitudes of life, but we have tried to frame a law which will give some measure of protection to the average citizen and his family against the loss of a job and against poverty-stricken old age."

"This law, too, represents a cornerstone in a structure which is being built but is by no means complete—a structure intended to lessen the force of possible future depressions, to act as a protection to future administrations of the government against the necessity of going deeply into debt to flatten out the peaks and valleys of deflation and of inflation."

The first literary work of Arthur Schnitzler, the Austrian playwright and novelist, was "Anatol," a series of dramatic sketches of the love affairs of a rich young Viennese, over a cow.

POSTAGE STAMPS COST STATE GOVERNMENT PLENTY

More Than Half Million Dollars Appropriated for That Purpose

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 15.—(AP)—A business which will spend more than half a million dollars on postage, approximately $2,000,000 on printed matter and make refunds of nearly $5,000,000 in the next two years is what the taxpayers have set up at the Illinois State House.

These amounts are included in the $388,999,244 appropriated by the general assembly to meet the cost of state government in the two year period ending July 1, 1937.

The $5,000,000 for refunds includes an appropriation of $500,000 for the state treasurer's office to pay claims from persons who paid too much in inheritance taxes. In addition to this that office was appropriated $523,950 to meet its "ordinary and contingent expenses" as well as $40,231,548 with which to pay principal and interest on maturing bond issues.

Other items in the $5,000,000 set aside for refunds include appropriations with which to repay gasoline, sales and liquor tax and utility taxes which are paid under protest or in instances in which the law provides for an exemption.

Other Appropriations Appropriations to other state activities include the following: secretary of state for automobile department, $1,617,326; secretary of state for enforcement of motor vehicle anti-theft law (certificate of title), $750,000; lieutenant governor, ordinary and contingent expenses, $24,000; department of mines and minerals, $221,140; governor's office and upkeep of the executive mansion, $142,204; department of registration and education, ordinary and contingent, $1,094,781; liquor control commission, $441,900; and $10,000 for the state mining investigation commission.

While expenses of the state government for the two-year period have been set at $388,999,244 by the legislature in appropriating that amount, the assembly's action is by no means final.

The appropriations are merely a maximum beyond which an agency of state government can not expend. In many instances they do not spend the entire appropriation; in others they do it months before the two year period is up and then the assembly, if it changes to be meeting in special session, is asked to make a deficiency appropriation so that it may continue its activities throughout the remainder of the biennium.

BACKFIELD MEN TOO NUMEROUS FOR COACHES

Experiments Made to Pick Quartet of Runners

Chicago, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Like the old woman in the shoe, the coaches of the 1934 college All Stars have so many backfield stars they don't know what to do.

But the life is something else again. After three days of drill, the coaches figure the line will be the biggest problem for the game against the Chicago Bears, Aug. 29. They have the man power and brawn, but aim to get the right man in the right place against the heavy charging Bear forwards.

Experiments of all kinds went forward today in the backfield. Munjas of Pittsburgh, Krupnick of North Dakota and Salatin of Santa Clara appeared the leading quarterback candidates with Jack Beynon, Illinois, shifted to left halfback along with Cotton Warburton of Southern California because they are not familiar with the Notre Dame style of play. Inky Wotkins, Southern California, and Stan Kostka, Minnesota, are favorites at fullback. At right halfback, Bill Shepherd, Western Maryland; Al Nicholli, St. Mary's, and George Melnikov, Notre Dame, appear leading candidates.

The list of casualties was increased yesterday when Frank Sobrero, Santa Clara halfback, injured a shoulder in scrimmage, and Shepherd was shaken up.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JO DARLEN breaks her engagement to BRUCE PAUL, college athlete star, because Bruce objects to her taking a job as hostess at Crest Lake Inn, fashionable summer resort owned by wealthy DOUGLAS MARSH.

Jo goes to Crest Lake. Marsh's eccentric mother dislikes her and causes difficulties. These are increased when PETER FRAGONET, film actor, arrives. Fragonet asks Jo to marry him as soon as he can secure a divorce.

First Paul comes to Crest Lake as life guard. BARS MONTGOMERY, school acquaintance who is jealous of Jo, is also there.

Fragonet leaves and returns when his film company undertakes to make part of a motion picture at the resort. Jo becomes friendly with LOLA MONTEZ.

There is a party for the film company. Next morning Barbara tells Jo that she is going to marry Douglas Marsh. Soon after Marsh, prompted by his mother, asks Jo to leave Crest Lake. She agrees to go immediately. In the corridor she meets Mrs. Marsh.

NOW ON WITH THE STORY

IGNORING JO's frantic accusation, Mrs. Marsh's sharp gaze took in her bustling suit, the daring white one she had bought so breathlessly at Lytson's.

"I'm sure," said the old lady acidly, "that I can't be deceived by my own eyes. Even the clothes you wear—"

"Stop it!" Jo cried, her nerves cracking. "I won't stand your insults, not even for this last day here. I won't! I won't!"

She might have forgotten herself even more completely had not Tubby appeared and grasped her elbow hard, opened the door and steered Jo forcibly inside. But just before she closed it, Jo's oxymoron friend turned again to Mrs. Marsh. "Haven't you done enough?" she asked angrily, then gave the door a short, hard slam to cut off whatever answer Mrs. Marsh may have had.

But Tubby was almost as exasperated with Jo Darlen as with Mrs. Marsh.

"Can't I let you out of my sight a minute without your getting into trouble?" She heaved a deep sigh. "I honestly believe you were fitting yourself out for murder just as I arrived."

"It wasn't that bad . . . but she did drive me . . . out the door where I didn't know what I was saying—or care." Jo looked up at her friend. "It's all over, Tubby. I'm leaving Crest Lake."

"But I thought you'd decided to stay?"

"I had. But this new decision wasn't mine," Jo told her. "You mean Mrs. Marsh has fired you?" asked Tubby unbelievably. Jo nodded. "Very gently. But nevertheless that's what he did."

"Why—why—" Tubby couldn't find expression for a moment. "I'll bet a doughnut I know who's behind this."

"That doesn't make much difference, does it?"

The other was silent. "Well," she said finally, "let's pack our duds and get out of here then. You needn't think I'm going to stay any longer if you don't."

JO looked at Tubby. "Remember that I told you I didn't think I'd return to the university?"

"Yes . . ."

"Well, I don't think I even want to return to the same town. Tubby. Can you understand that?"

Tubby nodded. "I—I guess so. You mean this is where we split up?"

Yes, Jo had decided, she would really go to Hollywood. But she

"At least for a time, Tubby. Jo smiled, found it hard to keep the tears back at the thought of leaving such a truly devoted friend. "Unless you want to go to Hollywood with me."

"Holly—you're really going to Hollywood?"

"I think so, Tubby . . ." Jo rose from her chair and walked to the window. "I can't think of any reasons why I shouldn't." She turned to the other girl suddenly. "It'd be grand to have you there with me."

Tubby shook her head. "Not me, Jo."

They were both silent a moment. Then Tubby added slowly, "Be sure to drop me a line once in a while, Jo. And I'll do the same."

Jo managed a laugh. "Don't be so serious about it, Tubby. After all, Hollywood isn't in Russia. You've had such a grand time looking out for me—that's the real reason you don't want to see me go."

"I guess you're right, at that," grinned Tubby. She walked quickly to Jo, kissed her on the cheek. "Well . . . so long, Jo."

"So long, Tubby, and good luck."

With eyes that were flaring suspiciously, Jo saw Tubby hurry toward the door, and into the hall. Then the door was closed and Tubby was gone and Jo Darlen had never felt quite so alone in all her life. She realized now that she had depended much on Tubby Davis. It had been nice to have Tubby worrying and fretting and helping to fight battles. But now that was all over . . . just when she needed Tubby most of all.

Steeling herself, Jo turned to the window, gazed out across the green lawn.

"I don't need anyone but myself," she whispered slowly. "Not anyone."

TWO hours later Jo sat at the little desk, the tip of a penholder between her strong, even teeth. Behind her on the bed were her bags, packed and locked. But they were not as bulging as they had been when she arrived at Crest Lake, for in the closet hung all the clothes she had bought at Lytson's.

Bending her head over the note paper, she finished the short note she planned to leave for Douglas Marsh, thanking him again for his fairness, and explaining that she was leaving "the wardrobe of the official hostess" in the closet.

Already on the desk lay a sealed envelope addressed to Peter Fragonet. It had been hard to write that note, but Jo felt it would be safer to write than to try to explain. And she had thought it all out in those two hours since Tubby had gone. There was, she had decided, no reason why she shouldn't go to Hollywood. She had never seen the place and had always wanted to see it. And now that her father had a job there was no reason why she shouldn't spend a little of the money she had earned at Crest Lake. She felt less doubtful this time about getting a job, for now she had that intangible something called "experience" and, if necessary she could obtain a letter from Douglas Marsh—although she hoped not to need to ask for that.

Yes, Jo had decided, she would really go to Hollywood. But she

He shook her gently and rushed on. "If it's the actor you're afraid of, then I'll stop acting. I mean it, Jo. You're more to me than all the picture laurels I could pick up in a lifetime."

"But, I—I don't love you, Peter."

Fragonet tossed his head impatiently. "Don't talk of love now. Listen, I know what you've been through here. If you can't call me anything more, then call me your friend." He stood back, glanced quickly at his strap-watch. "Harry, Jo! We've just 25 minutes to get to the airport. The car's outside." He strode to the bed. "Are these your bags?"

Dazedly Jo watched him take up her luggage.

"Yes," she said slowly. (To Be Continued)

SAYS ITALY HAS PRACTICALLY DECLARED WARFARE

Viscount Snowden, Former British Premier, Summarizes Dispute

Viscount Snowden of Ickneshaw, former British Chancellor of the Exchequer and labor leader, broke a lifetime rule against commenting publicly when he wrote the following article for The Associated Press on the even of the tri-partite conference in Paris for discussion of the Italo-Ethiopian conflict. Viscount Snowden was branded a dangerous pacifist when he inveighed against war in 1914.

PESSIMISM DEEPENS

Paris, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Programs for war and peace in East Africa were weighed today by Premier Laval of France and Baron Pompeo Aloisi of Italy as they conferred for an hour in the former's office.

Their talk seemed only to deepen the pessimism of officials.

Premier Mussolini's right hand man came to the French government head with three arguments:

1. Italy must protect Eritrea and Italian Somaliland against a wild and dangerous nation (Ethiopia) by disarming it;

2. Italy must expand into colonies as Great Britain and France have done;

3. Italy is starved for raw materials and must develop her own supplies.

To these arguments, Laval had the following answer:

1. War would wreck Europe's long-drawn-out efforts for peace and, possibly, even the League of Nations;

2. War would cost men and money and create hatreds, although Mussolini could attain his desires gradually and peacefully;

3. War would endanger or break the Anglo-Italian control of Europe.

Following his meeting with Laval, Laval conferred with his ministry experts, who are preparing arguments and suggestions for further development. He gave them not only the Italian suggestion but also the British as presented to him yesterday by Anthony Eden, British minister for League of Nations affairs.

A second conference between Laval and Eden was arranged for the afternoon to clear the ground for the formal opening tomorrow of the conversations among Laval, Aloisi and Eden.

The British are calling these tri-power conversations "the last chance" to transform war into peace before the League of Nations Council meets Sept. 4 at Geneva.

WIFE CHARGED WITH DEATH OF HUBBY'S HELPER

Man's Admission of His Love for Secretary Brings Tragedy

New York, Aug. 15.—(AP)—A thirty-five-year-old matron was half-dragged, half-carried into Magistrate's court here for arraignment on the charge that she murdered her husband's pretty blond secretary in a jealous frenzy.

Mrs. Etta Reisman was in a state of semi-collapse as she was arraigned on a short affidavit alleging first degree murder for the fatal shooting early Wednesday of Miss Virginia Leigh, 23.

Magistrate Frank X. Giorgio adjourned the case until August 21 so the accused could obtain counsel. She was ordered held without bail.

Half-crazed by her husband's announcement that he loved his secretary and intended to obtain a separation, authorities said, the housewife, mother of a nine-year-old son, solved the triangle with Reisman's own revolver.

Reconstruction

Police reconstructed the shooting in this way:

Miss Leigh and Mrs. Reisman's stepdaughter, Annette, were trying to persuade Reisman, who was intoxicated, to leave his car and come into the house, which is located in a fashionable sector of Beechurst, Queens.

Mrs. Reisman emerged from the house, just in time to hear her husband, prosperous beauty shop proprietor, mumble:

"I love Virginia, and Virginia loves me."

The jealousy-crazed woman returned to the house, authorities said, and came out with her husband's revolver.

She sent one bullet into the pretty secretary's pajama-clad body. Her stepdaughter struggled with her for the gun. It went off again, wounding Annette in the hand.

Miss Leigh had lived with the Reismans for seven years.

Likewise, he could not say whether he would go to the meeting of Young Democrats to be held at Milwaukee, Wis., August 23.
